

Oh What A Thrill

Chuck Berry

Oh, well, well, well, you've blown my clouds away
My rains have gone and my sunshine's here to stay
And I feel so good I could really get down today

Hollerin' yes, yes! Oh, what a thrill
Hollerin' yes, yes! Oh, what a thrill
If you say I can stay, baby, you know I will

I could stay here all evenin' listenin' to the music you play
Those same sweet songs of a golden yesterday
Squeezin' and teasin' and pleasin' the evenin' away

Hollerin' yes, yes! Oh, what a thrill
Hollerin' yes, yes! Oh, what a thrill
If you say I can stay, baby, you know I will

I will wake up in the morning and do the same sweet things
Rockin' with the record that the same sweet people sing
All the clouds from the west go east, you confess it is spring

Hollerin' yes, yes! Oh, what a thrill
Hollerin' yes, yes! Oh, what a thrill
I want you to want you to love you of your own free will

Baby, you're so beautiful to want me here to stay
I would be here forever but I gotta die someday
But I will be lovin' you, baby, when I pass away

Hollerin' yes, yes! Oh, what a thrill
Hollerin' yes, yes! Oh, what a thrill
I will love you like a lover loves a lover always
