

A Tear

Chuck Jackson

A tear, can't stop this little drop of water called a tear

Ever since you went away, this little drop of water's been here

So my darlin', tell me why, why you want to make me cry Come here, and stop this little drop of water called a

As long as you're in love, you'll find as you go through the years

From your heart, love will bring laughter
And from your eye, love will bring tears, tears, tears, tears

A tear, can't stop this little drop of water called a

When you break my heart, this little drop of water appears

Mmmm. I guess its something, I can't explain Why this little ball of rain falls from my eyes,
A little drop of water called a tear

Oh. I guess its something, I can't explain
Why this little ball of rain falls from my eyes,
A little drop of water called a tear
