

Coming Out in Code

Chuck Prophet

A tattoo of a matador
That's my family crest
Like a bull in a china shop
My heart beats in my chest
Suzy had a yellow hat
Her hair tied in a bun
So many things I could have said to her
So much I could have done
Have you seen that yellow hat
Does anybody know?
I'm speaking to you from the heart
But it's coming out in code
I wandered through this wicked world
Looking for my twin
It might be him, it might be her
I guess I'll find out in the end
Once I had a brother
I lost him to the street
We'd dress up like two astronauts
Every time we'd trick or treat

Have you seen that candy man
Does anybody know?
I'm speaking to you from the heart
But it's coming out in code
A rainbow on a hillside
A painting in a frame
I knew a painter with a hot plate once
She rode me like a train
You can say that I'm well-traveled
I'm a pauper, I'm a king
They call me Willie Wonka boys
You tell me what it means
Have you seen my candy man
Does anybody know?
I'm speaking to you from the heart
But it's coming out in code
I'm speaking to you from the heart
But it's coming out in code
