

Old with You

Chuck Wicks

Some guys get a scratch off ticket
Buy a bass boat with all of there winnings
Drive through any little town
Without single red light to slow em down

But I ain't never been a lucky one
I ain't a bet on a horse on Kentucky one
If it's a fish or a break, I can't catch it
Maybe that's why I just don't get it

What did I ever do to be the one holding you
Spinning you all around in white
And baby, what did you see
Somebody like me when I bought you that drink that night
Don't know how, but somehow
Now I'm the luckiest guy in the room
Cause I'm the one, who gets to get old with you

I still remember pulling into your drive
So nervous telling you good night
Leaning in for a first kiss
I thought for sure I'd swing and miss

Cause I ain't ever been a lucky one
I ain't a bet on a horse on Kentucky one
If it's a fish or a break nah, I can't catch it
How I got ya girl, I still don't get it so

What did I ever do to be the one holding you
Spinning you all around in white
And baby, what did you see
Somebody like me when I bought you that drink that night
Don't know how, but somehow
Now I'm the luckiest guy in the room
Cause I'm the one, who gets to get old with you

Gets to get old with you...

What did I ever do to be the one holding you
Spinning you all around in white
Baby, what did you see
Somebody like me when I bought you that drink that night
Look at us, look around
Now I'm the luckiest guy in the room
Cause I'm the one, who gets to get old with you
Who gets to get old with you
