Chunk! No, Captain Chunk!

I can show you firsthand about falling apart
It's as easy clicking your heels
Three times
No place like loneliness
Tearing it all apart
Now I have to find my courage wherever that is

When life is like a movie that nobody will ever see
It ends with a beginning
While the credits are running

This is my soundtrack to the end
Singing along is how it all began
This is my soundtrack to the end
I've paid my pound of flesh

I've got a threshold
For abuse
I've got this pencil
My weapon of choice
Got such potential
Uncomfortable silence sounds familiar

You have to remember your lines
You're losing track of everything you can't slow down
How far would you go to prove a point so inside out

When life is like a movie that nobody will ever see
It ends with a beginning
While the credits are running

This is my soundtrack to the end
Singing along is how it all began
This is my soundtrack to the end
I've paid my pound of flesh

What else do want
Enough is enough
Haven't I given you everything that you want
The past is the past
I can finally say we're in the last act
When life is like a movie that nobody will ever see
It ends with a beginning
While the credits are running

This is my soundtrack to the end
This is my soundtrack to the end
Singing along is how it all began
This is my soundtrack to the end
I've paid my pound of flesh
