

Clothes

Cian Ducrot

I didn't know that she was dancing right beside me
I only noticed when she asked me so politely
"Could you play my favourite song"
Latchin' on to all the words that I was singing
It wasn't hard to feel the heat that she was bringing
But she was stringing me along

We danced the night away
She told me she would stay the night at my place
But in the morning I called to say

You left some clothes last night
And I wonder who you are
And I wonder are you far
You left, still on my mind
And I'll never feel the same
Didn't even catch your name

She was drinking me underneath the table
Tried to keep up when I knew I wasn't able
She told me "practice what you preach"
Then she kissed me when I wasn't expecting
Didn't think that it would go in that direction
I guess its time for us to leave

We danced the night away
She told me she would stay the night at my place
But in the morning I called to say

You left some clothes last night
And I wonder who you are
And I wonder are you far
You left, still on my mind
And I'll never feel the same
Didn't even catch your name

You left some clothes last night
And I wonder who you are
And I wonder are you far
You left, still on my mind
And I'll never feel the same
Didn't even catch your name
