

Happier Without Me

Cian Ducrot

I'm not sure
What to say in times like this
I'm lost for words
Try to find something that fits

I know I'm still in pain
I walk out with the blame
What else can I do?
Four years in my heart
I can't undo that part
Maybe I don't want to

Throw it all away
Say I hate you just in vein or that
It was all a waste, and
You could be replaced
But I knew you so well
Still I couldn't tell
That you'd be happier without
Are you happier without me?

I guess that this is the part
When I learn to walk away
'Cause now we're just broken hearts
And we'll never feel the same

I know I'm still in pain
I walk out with the blame
What else can I do?
Four years in my heart
I can't undo that part
Maybe I don't want to

Throw it all away
Say I hate you just in vein or that
It was all a waste, and
You could be replaced
But I knew you so well
Still I couldn't tell
That you'd be happier without
Are you happier without me?

If I could I would be so happy for you
But I'm selfish in the way that I choose to love you
That I choose to love you

I know I'm still in pain
I walk out with the blame
What else can I do?
Four years in my heart
I can't undo that part
Maybe I don't want to

Throw it all away
Say I hate you just in vein or that
It was all a waste, and
You could be replaced

But I knew you so well
Still I couldn't tell
Are you happier without me?
