Driving up the 1 in 1
My Uber driver is trying to get me high
Wishing you'd pick up your phone
No I didn't mean for us to fight

Now your halfway around the world
And I'm still here

Baby if I told you
I'd be fighting for you
Didn't mean those things that I said
Should've shown you instead
That I loved you more than I admitted to
Now I'm lost in my head
Now I'm all in my head now

What if it's supposed to hurt?
What if it's supposed to break your heart?
You're still sleeping in my sweatshirt
Maybe this is just the hard part

Now your halfway around the world
And I'm still here

Baby if I told you
I'd be fighting for you
Didn't mean those things that I said
Should've shown you instead
That I loved you more than I admitted to
Now I'm lost in my head
Now I'm all in my head now

Why did they not teach us how to say when it gets rough sometimes?
Maybe it's just meant to fall apart when you're in love sometimes
Why did they not try to warn us love is on & off sometimes
That love is on & off sometimes

Baby if I told you
I'd be fighting for you
Didn't mean those things that I said
Should've shown you instead
That I loved you more than I admitted to
Now I'm lost in my head
Now I'm all in my head now

Baby if I told you
I'd be fighting for you
Didn't mean those things that I said
Should've shown you instead
That I loved you more than I admitted to
Now I'm lost in my head
Now I'm all in my head now
