

Can I Begin Again

Ciaran Lavery

Oh what you do, I just do, I just do
Oh what you do, I just do, I just do

I want a cigarette, I want a cigarette
I'd rather be in love, I'd rather be in love
I need to please myself, I need to please myself, I need to please myself
Settling in well, settling in well

Hold yourself up and in the waiting room biding my time
Shown now all the [?] I'm wishing you were never that tired

We could've been, we could've been, we could be
We could've been, we could've been, we could be
We could've been, we could've been, we could be
We could've been, we could've been, we could be

Can I begin again? Can I begin again?
There's always something
There's always something
I need to please myself, I need to please myself, I need to please myself
Settling in well, settling in well

I'm all shaking, can it be paid off
I'm shaking

I want a cigarette, I want a cigarette
But I'd rather be in love, I'd rather be in love
I want a cigarette (I don't smoke, no)
I want a cigarette
But I'd rather be in love (You don't love no)
I'd rather be in love
I need to please myself, I need to please myself, I need to please myself
I'm settling in well, I'm settling in well (Oh I just do, I just do)
I'm settling in well
