

I Love You

Cindy Morgan

I don't know the words that I should say
A symphony of letters set in place
I only know
That I love you
I don't have a plane that I can fly
Spelling out your name up in the sky
I only know
That I love you
So tell me you love me
Tell me that you feel the same
Simple and true
And better the old fashioned way
I can't take you on a rocket to the moon
Write a poem set in France to make you swoon
I only know yeah
That I love you
Yes, I do
So tell me you love me
Tell me that you feel the same
Simple and true
And better the old fashioned way
Even though a diamond shines like light
Nothing on this earth could sparkle brighter than you
I love you
