Don't think twice about yourself
You left out some important detail
I would appreciate an explanation
You make it seem like you're the good guy all the time
Every ear will listen as you stumble
Every ounce of attention gets paid
In the background, they've all made their minds up

Stage the fight
Don't lay your hands on me
Don't lay your hands on me
I want to get my time back

Hold that thought
Hold that thought
Hold that thought
Hold that thought

Drag your fingers in the glass like it makes a difference, yeah
Drag your nails across the sand
Realize that it's just glass
You take advantage of it
You take advantage of it
You take advantage of it every way you can
You take advantage of it
You take advantage of it
You're the only one who has to know

Wait it out
They'll always be there to collect
Wait it out
They'll always show up in the end
Wait it out
We'll pick up right where we left off
Wait it out

Stage the fight
Don't lay your hands on me
Don't lay your hands on me
I want to get my time back
Sink or die
Don't bet against yourself
Don't bet against yourself
I wouldn't let my guard down

If there's something in the air
Nobody here seems to care
If there's something in the moon
I hope that we find out soon
If there's something in the air
I don't think they seem to care
If there's something in the moon
I hope that it explodes soon
