

Indra's Net

Circa Survive

Fly past the cordial glance
Free from the same sleep routine
You were stranded all to glow
Tease the pattern an inch before
Splinter the entrance, collapse

Forever deflate this satchel, digging out
In order to keep this form

Now we imitate your grandeur
Killing stride
In effort to keep your conscience weighted

Candor of the passions
Reveal the answers in our mind
Under the neon light
Between the movements
We're on the outside looking in
And that is all you're worth
You're worth

Different from what you want
Lured by the stained glass routine
You were handed all my time
Lick the granite, lazy eye
Deflect the entrance, connect

I wouldn't commit your arriving
Shallow wind
In order to keep you sane

Now we imitate your garden
Pitchfork smile
In effort to keep your conscience weighted

Now all of your tremors slingshot emotion
Push it off, can't get away, disseminate
Now elect your dermal, skin is resistant
Fake it all, can't get away, disseminate
Your blood pressure licks so that you're dead
Your blood pressure, blood pressure

Candor of the passions
Reveal the answers in our mind
Under the neon light
Between the movements
We're on the outside looking in
And that is all you're worth
Under the neon light
And that is all you're worth
You're worth
