

Make your move
Obvious humor
Desperate and respiratory plight
Always on
Dressed to impress
I'll be the last one to find out why
Time takes its toll on us

This changes everything
I'd be a liar to deny you at all
Now that I know
This changes everything

I've been trading ideas with intriguing men Over and over again
I perceive an honest solution
To all your problems (pride)

This changes everything
I'd be a liar to deny you at all
Now that I know
This changes everything

Now that I know
Now that I know

Remove from home
I promise to write
There is no gift without a price

The amplifier screams out loud
The last times wave your hands
At the audience as you sink in
This last chance to hide you need desperately so

Motion gives up on you in the end
I'll try my best to be home by then
You'll see the grace we had
You'll never have...
I'm going home but my own way
I'm going home by my own
I would really love if you'd sit him down
Pull this thread