Circa Survive

In a house resist
A fever steals a child's mind
And I fear it's contagious
Your eyes, they will refuse to see
The shifting right in front of you
Well you gotta close your eyes to see
Clear enough
For your last glance
At what you used to be
And who you think that you are
Something else
Something else
That's it, just tear it out
And leave it on the ground
Because if you know where it came from
Then you would know
It's the last chance to finally leave
But nobody goes there at all
Release yourself, break free from them
I will be there soon enough
For your last chance
At who you think you are
Where did you go?
Where did you go
So horribly wrong
So horribly (wrong)
Something else
Something else
Where we lost our faith
I will never find
We still believe all things you said
Were all meant to comfort us
(Is this what you meant to do?)
