Circa Survive

I'm buried in your glow.
Will you take me with you when you go?
I've been following your eyes.
Going back, around, and then subside.

When you realize, when you realize my name.
And suddenly your mood begins to change.
When you realize, when you realize I'm gone.
I never said I want to you stay.

I hear it in your cries, you dismantle my disguise.

When you realize, when you realize my name.

And suddenly your anguish begins to change.
When you realize, when you realize I'm gone.
I never said I want to you to stay.

I'm buried in your glow.
Will you take me with you when you go?
I've been following your eyes.
Dismantle my disguise.

When you realize, when you realize my name.
And suddenly your mood begins to change.
When you realize, when you realize I'm gone.
I never said I'd wait here for long.
