Should A Cloud Replace A Compass

Circulatory System

Rain makes shapes fall on the lights And the lampposts, door to door Should a cloud replace a compass? How long can we think of the world As simply up or down (black and white) When inside out has come (and gone) Telephone wires, they may never reach You, they climb up so high, but still They never reach you (that's a good thing)