

Down Below

Cirith Ungol

I see, I see them falling
I hear, I hear them calling
All alone, once again
All alone with all my sins down below

Maybe if I close my eyes, I won't see the faces
All the living, all the dead, the dark unholy places
All those many years ago when paradise was lost
We never heard the warning, and we never knew the cost

Redeem us from this nightmare
Deliver us from pain
Deliver us from evil
So they'll never rise again from down below

Don't listen to the voices as they tell me what to do
The twisted schemes of evil that they've hidden from our view
Ignore the pounding Hell-rain and their crucible of fear
Ignore the silent screaming that the end will soon be here

Immortal choirs sound the call, malignant in my head
The only way for silence in this land of broken dead
Take their sunken dream, forever trap them in my mind
And fight the endless battle for the souls of all mankind

Redeem us from this nightmare
Deliver us from pain
Deliver us from evil
So they'll never rise again from down below
