Citizen Soldier

Have you ever felt lost, like you don't matter at all, like you were born just to be scared All this fear deep inside, does it burn to the surface leaving you gasping for air Now you're walking alone, it's all that you've ever known, so s ick of being the one betrayed
If you just take one more chance, if you just open your eyes, y ou'll find the purpose in your pain Oh, I know there is purpose in your pain

Do you feel already dead
Like you have no reasons left
Standing on the edge and finally looking down
Like a candle in the night
Fighting just to stay alive
I know you still can't see but hold onto me, you will be found

Is it the pulse of your heart, is it just way too heavy, does t he weight to the world hold you down Is the world celebrating, while you're there suffocating, no sh red of sympathy to be found Now face down in the dirt, you think it's what you deserve but even when this life is cold You've got to be strong somehow, rise from the dust, your story needs to be told

Do you feel already dead
Like you have no reasons left
Standing on the edge and finally looking down
Like a candle in the night
Fighting just to stay alive
I know you still can't see but hold onto me, you will be found

You will be saved
Just hear me now
I felt the same
You will be broken but never to pieces
Keep holding on, there's always a reason

Not to feel already dead
Like you have no reasons left
Standing on the edge and finally looking down
Like a candle in the night
Fighting just to stay alive
I know you still can't see but hold onto me, you will be found
