

Unbreakable

Citizen Soldier

I won't be your slave
No, not one more day
All you do is try to pull me under
I'm about to steal your thunder
I won't, I won't, won't play the victim
I won't back down, made my decision
I won't let you write my story
This is my moment of truth

I will not lay down and die
I have the will to survive
You'll see this mountain I climb has made me an animal
Stronger than you'll ever know
You love to criticize but now you'll finally see
Your words have lit a fire so deep inside of me
So go ahead and throw your stones, I am unbreakable

Does it get you off
Always playing God
You make me sick, make me feel so worthless
But I know that I don't deserve it
No more afraid, no more defenseless
I am reborn, I am relentless
I won't let you write my story
This is my moment of truth

I will not lay down and die
I have the will to survive
You'll see this mountain I climb has made me an animal
Stronger than you'll ever know
You love to criticize but now you'll finally see
Your words have lit a fire so deep inside of me
So go ahead and throw your stones, I am unbreakable

I will not be your slave
No, not one more day

I will not lay down and die
I have the will to survive
You'll see this mountain I climb has made me an animal
Stronger than you'll ever know
You love to criticize but now you'll finally see
Your words have lit a fire so deep inside of me
So go ahead and throw your stones, I am unbreakable
