

Time Bomb

Citizen Way

I see the boundary lines of truth blurred up ahead
Because of good intentions just as good as dead
Religiosity is overtaking borders
That once were strong enough to repel evil orders

This is what I see

From where I stand I see all that will be tomorrow
Because of what is taking place here today
From where I stand I see the writing on the wall
We are sitting on a time bomb

I feel the tremors of a quake that's drawing near
Because of Someone stepping into our atmosphere
He's not of earth though He was here long long ago
To show the Way give Life and make the Truth be known

This is what I feel

From where I stand I see all that will be tomorrow
Because of what is taking place here today
From where I stand I see the writing on the wall
We are sitting on a time bomb

From where I stand I see all that will be tomorrow
Because of what is taking place here today

From where I stand I see the writing on the wall
We are sitting on a time bomb
We are sitting on a time bomb

We are sitting
We are sitting
We are sitting
We are sitting
