

Help me understand when the long night ends
And do what suits you
Five years in, drained of oxygen
You'll do what suits you

If life in your glass world
Makes you feel so alone
Then why don't you say so?
If life in your glass world
Makes you feel so alone
Then why don't you say so?
Then why don't you say so?

Save some face in any way
For you, I was a fool
I'll hold you close, but when it's time to go
I'll move right through you

If life in your glass world
Makes you feel so alone
Then why don't you say so?
And I'll meet you somewhere
When the world turns dark and cold
If you would just say so
Then why don't you say so?

This year pressed roses from you
From you

If life in your glass world
Makes you feel so alone
Then why don't you say so?
And I'll meet you somewhere
When the world turns dark and cold
If you would just say so
Then why don't you say so?
