

The Night I Drove Alone

Citizen

I ran away from you, now look how far I've come.
I shared some secrets that I hoped you'd keep the words that do n't come out.
And I should have crashed the car the night I drive alone;
Escape from all this cold.

And you talk like someone else.

I ran away from you and now somethings killing me.
You hang me up as a souvenir of what I couldn't be.
And I should have crashed the car when I was all alone;
Escape from all I know.

And you talk like someone else.
