

Winter Buds

Citizen

Through my window lies my heaven
Through winter buds, dream so often
In my bedroom where I grew up
Kiss the carpet, dust the shelves off

Tell me what you want
Tell me if I'm strong enough
I'll give you what you want
I'll give you something good and old

Spend an hour on my back porch
Watch me scatter, find some comfort
Through my window, my world is blue
Through winter buds is where I'll find you

Tell me what you want
Tell me if I'm strong enough
I'll give you what you want
I'll give you something good and old

You oughta know a bit better, a bit better than me
You oughta know a bit better, better than me
You oughta know a bit better, a bit better than me
You oughta know a bit better, a bit better than me

You oughta know a bit better, a bit better than me
You oughta know a bit better, better than me
You oughta know a bit better, a bit better than me
You oughta know a bit better

Tell me what you want
Tell me if I'm strong enough
If everyone is alone
Then shouldn't that be good enough?
