Harder Than Stone

City and Colour

Someday I will walk away
When time ain't drawing on me like a blade
Back turned to the setting sun
Leaving behind Toronto's incessant hum

'Cause I was born and raised To live beyond The heft and weight Of a world undone

But I don't mean to be a bother I don't need you to take my burden away And I ain't afraid of dying Cold and alone

Traipsing though the utter dark Walking underneath the dead moonlight Without any great concern For what I've missed or how many bridges have burned

Like a bird who flies Away from the North My heart will roam In search of warmth

But I don't mean to be a bother I don't need you to take my burden away And I ain't afraid of dying Cold and alone

When my time comes
When I was young
I didn't know too much
I thought that I could rule the world

Then I grew up
And found out life was hard
Harder than stone
