

If I Should Go Before You

City and Colour

If I should go before you
When that long night comes We'll meet in the ever after Please don't follow me into the sun

If you should cross
the white light
and find yourself in the black I'll be right there behind you
You will have no need to look back

And when the night
cries itself awake
Dying in the light of day
Our endless love
will remain
Until we meet again...

If I should go
before you
Into the great unknown
I'll leave my ghost right beside you
You won't have to wait alone

And when the night
cries itself awake
Dying in the light of day
Our endless love
will remain
Until we meet...
Crying ourselves awake
Dying in the light of day
Our endless love
will remain
Until we meet again.
