

Mistakes

City Lights

Let me destroy what I built
Become what I hate
And everything in between

I've been fighting off my demons with a sword and a shield
They say you're only as strong as the weapon you wield
I've got my knuckles and one hell of a heart
I won't let the mistakes I've made tear my life apart

I'm finding it easier
To put the past behind me

Let me destroy what I built
Become what I hate
And everything in between
Let me learn on my own
Mistakes make me who I am

I've lost thousands of battles but I'm fighting a war
Planning my revolution as you hide behind closed doors
You can't pass judgment if you don't know my story
Truth is, I'm just a fucked up kid but there's no time to worry cuz

I'm finding it easier
To put the past behind me
I've grown and faced my fears
Stronger now so go ahead and try me

Let me destroy what I built
Become what I hate
And everything in between
Let me learn on my own
Mistakes make me who I am

I won't live my life to impress anyone
Oh!

I won't live my life to impress anyone
I've got nothing to prove to anybody but me

Let me destroy what I built
Become what I hate
And everything in between
Let me learn on my own
Mistakes make me who I am
