

Set Your Goals

CIV

take what time that you need to make that choice might be all you ever get we all gotta make our decisions or take a back seat everytime and when you cant figure out what you wanted and youre sick of playing of everything is fine you dont know what it is but you want it youre on your wat there once you set your goals

set your goals

dont get stuck on the money making you miss to much and it doesnt last you get more from what youve given make more life than a living when you cant figure out what you wanted and you cant pass off alll the blame again cause its all written in your hands you cant live your life just covering up cause you might not get a second chance you gotta take aim, wont you take it youre the only one to blame, so dont fake it spend your time like youre drawing a line between yourself and what you want you gotta set your goals
