

Months Ago

Clan of Xymox

Only for tears my head will bow
If only you could see what my eyes bestow
We always felt we disagreed
Where did we go wrong that you left me ?

You called me months ago
You told me months ago
You wanted me to know
You're no longer on your own

I drink your absence every day
It feels like a snake slithering away
My life will never be a song
My mind remembers too much and too strong

You called me months ago
You told me months ago
You wanted me to know
You are no longer on your own

I see you sit with your friends together
I see your spouse kiss your mouth and you are so happy
So happy, so happy, so happy, so happy, so happy

Out of the shell a pearl's gone
Out of the cage a bird has flown
Out of the shell a pearl is gone
