

The Rebels

Eric Clapton

Where have all the rebels gone
Hiding behind their computer screens
Where's the spirit, where is the soul
Where have all the rebels gone

Better come out of the woodwork now
One for the money, and two for the show
It's not very rock-n-roll
Where have all the rebels gone

Where have all the rebels gone
Someone else gotta make a move
They're not saying very much at all
Where have all the rebels gone

Were they really all that tough
Or was it just some PR stunt
One for the money, two for the show
Where did all the rebels go

Where have all the rebels gone
One for the money, two for the show
It's not very rock-n-roll
Where have all the rebels gone

Were they really all that tough
Or was it just some PR stunt
They're not saying very much at all
Where have all the rebels gone

Where have all the rebels gone
Hiding behind their computer screens
Where's the spirit, where is the soul
Where have all the rebels gone

Why don't they come out of the woodwork now
One for the money, two for the show
I can't find anyone at all
Where have all the rebels gone
