

Golden

Claptone

Yeah yeah hum
You call me in the darkest of times
My heart's a hurricane
Just thinking bout how we used to be
I couldn't find the words to come down
To feel myself again
I'm on the edge and it feels so deep

Coz everyone's so hung up on their history
That time and time again we gotta make believe
We're golden right now
We're golden right now

So get up
Don't fall into that trap
Don't be like everybody else
Don't keep on looking back
Don't be so hard on yourself
I feel lighter for the first time
Look outside and I know
We're golden right now
We're golden right now

I know it's getting harder to breathe
When eyes are wondering
I'm being crushed by these walls again
I keep losing track of all of the times
When life seemed everything
I'm on the edge I don't dare to swim

Coz everyone's so hung up on their history
That time and time again we gotta make believe
We're golden right now
We're golden right now

So get up
Don't fall into that trap
Don't be like everybody else
Don't keep on looking back
Don't be so hard on yourself

I feel lighter for the first time
Look outside and I know
We're golden right now
We're golden right now
And now I really wanna feel ya

Feeling lighter than I was before
Coming up and I ain't gonna fall
Look outside and I realize
We're golden right now
And now I really wanna feel ya
I'm feeling lighter than I was before
I'm coming up and I ain't gonna fall
I look outside and I realize
We're golden right now
And now I really wanna feel ya

So get up
Don't fall into that trap
Don't be like everybody else
Don't keep on looking back
Don't be so hard on yourself
I feel lighter for the first time
Look outside and I know
We're golden right now
We're golden right now
And now I really wanna feel ya

We're golden right now
We're golden right now