

Nobody

Clapton

Did you ever feel that everybody's
Got your life all planned
And if you wanna stay
You gotta play along
They tell you take a number
And they show you where to stand
They say they know your type
And here's where you belong

You just tell them
Nobody knows my song
Nobody knows my song
You say it's never been
Never been
Never been heard before
Never been heard before

You just tell them
Nobody knows my song
Nobody knows my song
Nobody, nobody
Nobody, nobody
Nobody knows my song
Nobody knows my song

If the others run and hide their faces
Scared of what you've done
You give them time to hear
This song that's all your own
Some room to find their voices
And you'll free them one by one
A little time to wait
Then you won't be alone

You just tell them
Nobody knows my song
Nobody knows my song
You say it's never been
Never been
Never been heard before
Never been heard before

You just tell them
Nobody knows my song
Nobody knows my song
You say it's never been
Never been
Never been heard before
Never been heard before

You just tell them
Nobody knows my song
Nobody knows my song
You say it's never been
Never been
Never been heard before
Never been heard before

You just tell them
Nobody knows my song
Nobody knows my song
You say it's never been
Never been
Never been heard before

This can be your independence day
Just look them straight in the eye and say

Say nobody, nobody
Nobody knows my song

Nobody knows my song
