

different...

Clara Benin

We don't like the same things
We agree to disagree most of the time
Most of the time

You called me up on New Year's Eve
I pretended to be fast asleep
I guess I was scared
But if I took that call
Would we still be stuck in this well-unknown?

Five years from now we bump into each other
You look my way somehow with your significant other
We both just smile and slowly walk away

Without a doubt
Everything's changed

All our friends are ending up together
Tell me, is there something in the water
Making me see you in a different way?
Oh, is it too late?

Tell me, is there something
Making me see you different?
Tell me, is there something
Making me see you different?
Different
Different
Different
Making me see you different?
Different
Different
Different
Making me see you different?
