

Strangers

Clara La San

I'm drowning in this cold, cold water
But my eyes are still open
Baby can you help me close them
So, I can settle down
Sleep right into now
'Cause I feel the same
I'm all alone
I'm countin' on your warmth to guide me
And I know you cannot hold me
But I know you'll still protect me
So, I should trust myself
And forget all of my downs
With you I know I'm safe
And it's okay

It's alright to cry about it when you're low
And, it's just fine to talk about it in the open
There's no way that you will never feel this broken
It's just right, now
I'm just fine
Right here on my shoulder
Right up on ya
It's alright
Like I told you, you'll be just fine
I won't leave here without you
I'll stay beside
There's no-one that will judge you (Judge you)

I see the world the way you taught it (The way you taught it)
These songs they make me wiser
They've kept me on the ground 'till now
So I won't do you wrong
You keep me holdin' on
You tell me it's okay through the sounds you make
I never wanna be without you (And I don't want this)
If I'm sleepin', then I hear you
If I'm talkin', then it's about you
So you enjoy my flaws
Not be afraid at all
You miss him when I call
Let the tears fall down

It's alright to cry about it when you're low
And, it's just fine to talk about it in the open
There's no way that you will never feel this broken
It's just right, now
And that's fine
Right here on my shoulder
It's alright
Like I told you, you'll be just fine
I'll stay beside
There's no-one that will judge you (Judge you)

There's no way we can both slow the clock, down
Tick, tock

Tick, tock
Time will never work for both of us, now
Tick, tock
Tick, tock
