

Missing You Sucks

Clara Mae

Be nice when you're talking about me an
Leave out all the ugly moments yeah
Don't forget what we had
'Cause it wasn't all bad
In time, know that I'll be over it
Right now, crying on my sofa just Wondering where you're at
I try not to fall back

I guess old habits die hard
'Cause I'm right back at the start

It's killing me slow, I can't switch it off
I put on a brave face to cover it up
I tried therapy, it didn't do much
I'm in a worse place than I started off
I try to let go but that's not enough
'Cause missing you sucks

He's nice and he kind of looks like you
But deep down I know that it's still too soon
It feels a little forced
I don't feel like me anymore

I guess old habits die hard
'Cause I'm right back at the start

It's killing me slow, I can't switch it off
I put on a brave face to cover it up
I tried therapy, it didn't do much
I'm in a worse place than I started off
I try to let go but that's not enough
'Cause missing you sucks

Wake up in the morning then and jump back to bed
And without a warning you're back in my head
It goes over and over, over and over again...

And it's killing me slow, I can't switch it off
I put on a brave face to cover it up
I tried therapy, it didn't do much
I'm in a worse place than I started off
I try to let go but that's not enough
'Cause missing you
Yeah missing you
Missing you
Missing you sucks
