

Stop Pretending

Clara

Keep your window open then you might just hear me cry
I see your mouth is moving, all you say is just a lie
Standing all alone on the dancefloor
I guess that no one wants to dance with me anymore

Why is the lie that we tell ourselves
That we're so independent, don't need nobody's help?
Why is the lie that we tell ourselves
That we're so independent, don't need nobody else?

Just stop for a second and breathe in the air
And please stop pretending, like you don't really care
And stop making this so difficult for me
You say you don't care, but you do, you do, I see

Remember I told you I was better on my own
'Cause nobody can hurt you when you're all alone
Standing all alone on the dancefloor
I guess that no one wants to dance with me anymore

Why is the lie that we tell ourselves
That we're so independent, don't need nobody's help?
Why is the lie that we tell ourselves
That we're so independent, don't need nobody else?

Just stop for a second and breathe in the air
And please stop pretending, like you don't really care
And stop making this so difficult for me
You say you don't care, but you do, you do, I see
Just stop for a second and breathe in the air
And please stop pretending, like you don't really care
And stop making this so difficult for me
You say you don't care, but you do, you do, I see
