

Warrior

Clare Bowen

I know you woke up tired
And you went to bed afraid
I hear you praying for an answer
You've got a fire that burns through the rain
You are a light that just won't fade

They'll call you a hero
Guardian angel
One in a million who didn't stand a chance
Call you a survivor
Say you're a fighter
Turned this battle into a dance
Warrior, warrior

When you're finding it hard to smile
And harder yet to stand
Shoulder to shoulder mile by mile
You've got a fire that burns through the rain
Oh you are a light that just won't fade

They'll call you a hero
Guardian angel
One in a million who didn't stand a chance
Call you a survivor
Say you're a fighter
Turned this battle into a dance
Warrior, warrior, warrior, warrior

Oh I know you woke up tired
And you went to bed afraid
But love your battle scars
With everything you are
Warrior, warrior, warrior, warrior
Warrior, warrior, warrior, warrior
