

Every Day Of The Year

Clare Dunn

I woke up on Christmas eve
Just another day for me
And I wonder where you are
Oh, and why, baby, why did you leave

And then the sun came up
I took a good look around
And all I saw was this whole thing coming down
Cause it ain't no holidays, it ain't the best time of year
When you're gone, this place is just some old ghost town

And there'll be no angel choir singing
Be no celebrating feeling for me here
Cause you were my Christmas, you were my Christmas
Every day of the year

And all these memories
Keep yelling at me
Up and down the hall about what I lost
And like a ghost of Christmas past
I'm haunted by the good we had
And I want someone to wake me up so bad

Cause there'll be no angel choir singing
Be no celebrating feeling for me here
Cause you were my Christmas, you were my Christmas
Every day of the year

Am I crazy for believing you'd come back
Or am I wasting all my wishes
On somethin' I never had

Cause there'll be no angel choir singing
No celebrating feeling for me here
Cause you were my Christmas, you were my Christmas
Every day of the year
You were my Christmas, you were my Christmas
Every day of the year
