I needed Def Jams to rap a lot
Came up in the 90's you can hear the snap crackle pop
Crack the shackles off, raps David Hassellhoff
Fell, scraped my knees got back up and whip the gravel off
I did this with no piggy back
Like how they said P. Diddy did on Biggie's back
Said you're a lion your lying you little kitty cat
I'm money in the bank what's a 50 rack. give me that
I'm splitting wigs like a quart of wood
Strick like the court of law
Sip a quart of liquor raw
Been recording for a quarter of my life
Now my headquarters and my tennis court is looking right
Who wanna play with me, rage with me
Love the ones who learned to changed with me stayed with me
Everyday me and Merk show our worth
Cause nobody wanna die underpaid and over worked oh no

Throw 'em up high, real high, throw em up
Took a minute 'til they listened now they know what's up
Thought I told ya all before no ones as cold as us
We shut it down to shut 'em up kid, get ready

I been breaking down them doors since a youngin'
Now I'm posing for pictures when I go out in public
Saking hands with the fans like they know me or something
This hard works been paying off now I don't need a budget
I remember bumping class in grade 7 in school
Who would of known by 2020 I'd make several moves
But I stay blessed it's not for the paycheques or the views
It's the respect, work harder and say less to these dudes
Shout out to mom and dad I got 'em tatted on my hands
Your favourite rappers just collab'ed, this is Halifax to Van
Respect your OG's, Class I'm actually fan
I just wrote this smoking dope and flicking ashes in the can
We gotta come together that way we can all win at this
I grew up playing 50 cent and Eminem's infinite
I knew that I could do this had a dream and then I did this shit
The east to west connect and now we infamous this is it
Yea you know that's us anywhere and anytime
I'm well aware they envy mine I'm debonaire, I'm plenty fly
Remain confident but humble as well
Get out your comfort zone or else you'll end up stuck in your shell
I'm a bulldog these cats better tuck in your tail
Like an addict in treatment don't make me come off the rails yea

Throw 'em up high, real high, throw em up
Took a minute 'til they listened now they know what's up
Thought I told ya all before no ones as cold as us
We shut it down to shut 'em up kid, get ready
