When you feel you are lonely You think you're the only One who feels that way You sit watching the wall Feel like ending it all If no-one calls to say Hello, how are you today Why not come and see a play Or a movie? I'll come over anyway Talk a while, and I may stay Over, we'll see All alone in your room If someone won't come soon There's no-one's voice but yours You look out of the window There's nobody you know Coming through the door Silence is the only friend Feels like we have reached the end Of a movie Now there's no more turning back Everything is grey on black What do you see? No-one cares alive or dead Thoughts run riot in your head Like a movie Lock the door and lose the key Everyone out there you'll be Sorry, you'll see Time has never seemed so long There's no comfort in a song Or a movie Couldn't stand it anymore Tried to find a way out for yours truly
