Screwdriver

Claud

Can't draw the line so I put vodka in my orange juice and I'm Thinking about moving out of New York
I don't have time since I've been waking up in the afternoon wi th you
And I could never tell you that I'm thinking of Anything else but being here right now

I can't even tell when I need to be alone anymore

You caught me looking at photographs of supermodels
Trying not to cry when I look back at myself
It takes me by surprise the more I learn about the things I lov e
'Cause I don't think I knew you till yesterday

Aren't you feeling a little more even
I got you out of bed and you got me to believe it

Sometimes I feel like getting married
Sometimes it's all a dream
Sometimes I feel like we should bury it
Here before we sink

You're sitting on my back, I'm laying on my stomach and
Your little hands are playing with my week old dirty hair
Can't believe I captured all of it on video
I look at it every time I want to be alone

I dreamt of you my whole life, and now I understand why Dreams like this aren't supposed to come true

Sometimes I feel like getting married
Sometimes it's all a dream
Sometimes I feel like we should bury it
Here before we sink

I feel like
I feel like
I feel like
Feel like
I feel like
I feel like

Can't draw the line so I put vodka in my orange juice
And I'm thinking about moving out of New York
