

Cowboy Loves A Woman

Clay Walker

The heart is big as a blue Montana sky
And a faith as deep as a canyon stretches wide
He never makes a promise he can't keep
Won't hold you down, he'll let you run wild and free

This is the way a cowboy loves a woman
Like everything else, he gives it everything he's got
When he finds the right place to hang his hat
He's yours forever, just like that
This is the way a cowboy loves a woman

He'll show you some things are worth fighting for You'll never doubt how beautiful you are
He'll ride through hell and across the great divide
'Cause he just wants to be there by your side

This is the way a cowboy loves a woman
Like everything else, he gives it everything he's got
When he finds the right place to hang his hat
He's yours forever, just like that
This is the way a cowboy loves a woman

When he finds the right place to hang his hat
He's yours forever, just like that
This is the way a cowboy loves a woman
This is the way this cowboy loves his woman
