Reasons

Clea

Ohhh
All those times you kept me waiting
Staying up late, anticipating
Your empty words, I'll be home in a while
And each one that passes will never come back no
Whatever happened with the communication
Close together, midnight conversations
You always say, in a day or a week
And each one that passes will never come back no

We can toss this back and forth but that is never gonna make it fine
Please be mine
Cos our love has been a battle but we need to leave the past behind
After all this time
I'm all for you

So many reasons, too many stories (baby)
I've heard 'em all, is this what love is I've had enough, did I deserve this? (did I deserve this?)
Don't let me lose you this way
No, oh ohhh
Ohhh
I'm on my knee's (I'm on my knee's) lets talk about it

So many days without your loving (without your love)
If you're not here I'm slowly dying (I'm slowly dying)

Don't let our love slip away (don't let me lose you this way)

We have to find a common language
Without enough misunderstandings
I always thought what is lost can be found
And each time you touch me I know we'll be fine
I just want us to stay together
Forget the past, oh it doesn't matter
I know that you feel the same as I do
And each time we touch I just know we'll be fine

We can toss this back and forth but that is never
gonna make it fine
Please be mine
Cos our love has been a battle but we need to leave
the past behind
After all this time
I'm all for you
