

BIG MACHINE

cleopatrick

You look so moral tonight
Always know
Who to stand up for
And why it's right

The way you say your lines
It's like they're born of your own mind

But I don't wanna be part of your big machine
No. I don't wanna be part of your big machine

No. Not me
Heaven knows it'd be wonderful to die
Without lending proof to sour truth surrounding you

But I don't wanna be part of your big machine
No. I don't wanna be part of your big machine

No. Not me
Not me
I know your plan
You wanna make me into something you can bend
Get out of my head

I don't wanna be part of your big machine
I don't wanna be part of your big machine
I don't wanna be part of your big machine
I don't wanna be part of your big machine
