

Belong To The World

Clever

Hold that thought
While I undress myself
Let me speak all my peace
When I run out of words, you should see how I express myself
I should probably find sleep but I find what I need when I smoke all the stress that I felt
I turned to move you close and turned into a ghost, yeah
I know it hurts to watch me close the blinds

But I belong to the world
I'm just a face that you see
You're just in love with an idea
Standin' right here waiting for me
But I belong to the world
I'm just a face that you see
I belong to the world
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
And the world belongs to me

Yeah
If I love you now would it come or would they hate you and me both?
If I need your love but I need the world and it's there love I need the most
Take a photo of me or reach for my hand
Sing my words, sign my praises
Receive my songs and accept my phases
Release my gauges
Turn to move you close and turn into a ghost
I know it hurts to watch me close the blinds
But patience is a virtue
I wonder how fast I could hurt you when you understand that most the time (Ha)
I belong to the world, yeah

Yeah, I belong to the world
I'm just a face that you see
You're just in love with an idea
But I belong to the world
I'm just a face that you see
I belong to the world
I belong to the world
And the world belongs to me

Yeah, I can't love you the way I could love you, babe
Mm, can't love you the way I could love you, babe
