

Better Not Fall

Clever

If I threw it all away, would you feel freedom?
After what you said to me, we're dead to me
Would you believe them?
If I'm somewhere between love and lost my confidence
Does that come with the consequence? oh
Two at a time
Does the moon ever shine?
If the light never finds you?

When they told you that you better not fall
For someone like me
Will you fall in for the chance to sake your fears so did you listen closely
When they told you not to fall in love
With someone like me

It sound hopeless
The cards out but the best hand folded
I'm at odds when the things I've done and the man I am, I'm just glad you no ticed
She lost but I find her through the smoke
Still walk through fire if I could float
Rather feel the coals than feel the cold
That's why I try to keep her close Feelin like there's somewhere I should be
I come undone, you comfort me
But don't save now cause I'll bring you down once I get back up on my feet
She can't see I'm too hurt to love
And the world not enough
With my right hand to god
This is all that I ever really wanted
Promise always darling
I don't ever wanna hear that you owe me
Hardly
If the moon ever hides in the clouds you can call me
And I'll do my best to keep you from falling

For someone like me
Will you fall in for the chance to sake your fears so did you listen closely
When they told you not to fall in love

Fight the fire if I let go my hands
Put me on my face and the lower I stand
Wrapped up in my head again
Holding back demons
Let em in like
Two at a time
Does the moon ever shine?
If the light never finds you?

When they told you that you
Better not fall
For someone like me
Will you fall in for the chance to sake your fears so did you listen closely
When they told you not to fall in love
That you better not fall
For someone like me
Will you fall in for the chance to sake your fears so did you listen closely

When they told you that you better not fall in love

With someone like me
