

Cowboy Killers

Clever

In the smoke-filled haze of my wild desires
The cowboy rides, chasing shadows of the fire
And where the dust meets the sky there I stand
With smoke in my eyes and the flame in my hands
And when the sun goes down the smoke will rise

I've been riding faster than my angels can fly
I won't slow down, I had to leave 'em behind
Running wild feels like I'm running out of time
This cowboy killer, the only thing keeping me alive

Where the wild winds blow, that's where I'll find my place
Chasing the horizon just for freedom's sake
With a pack in my sleeve, I'm alive and well
The fire's still burning, but only time will tell
And when the sun goes down the smoke will rise

I've been riding faster than my angels can fly
I won't slow down, I had to leave 'em behind
Running wild feels like I'm running out of time
This cowboy killer, the only thing keeping me alive

I've been riding faster than my angels can fly
I won't slow down, I had to leave 'em behind
Running wild feels like I'm running out of time
This cowboy killer, the only thing keeping me alive
This cowboy killer
The only thing keeping me alive
