

You're free to choose
You're free to choose but you're bound by your choices
Just take the knife, don't make her wind up to your feet
What if I told you I was lost?
I never been right here before
Sometimes I yearn 'fore I wise
These feelings ain't familiar anymore

I wish that I could say, "What doesn't kill me makes me stronger"
But I have died too many times to take it any longer, oh
Ha-ho, yeah

I can't blame you but fuck you for it
I can't blame you but fuck you for it
I can't blame you but fuck you for it
I can't blame you but fuck you for this

I am not different than people I hate, ooh-ooh
They just want theirs and I can relate, ooh
They want it now, they cannot wait
They rather kill and say that it's too late
And I'm no different than people I hate

You saw the clues
You saw the clues but your blind to how you're clueless
Just take the knife, don't make her wind up to your feet
What if I told you I was hurt?
You made a lesser man of me
I pushed in everything you're worth
I drown in insecurity

I can't blame you but fuck you for it
I can't blame you but fuck you for it
I can't blame you but fuck you for it
I can't blame you but fuck you for this

I wish that I could say, "What doesn't kill me makes me stronger"
But I have died too many times to take it any longer
Sticks and stones may break my bones but your words always hurt me
I wish that I could say that I don't feel like you deserve me

I am not different than people I hate, ooh-ooh
They just want theirs and I can relate, ooh
They want it now, they cannot wait
They rather kill and say that it's too late
And I'm no different than people I hate
