

Lonely Sunday

Clever

My name carved in this tree may last forever
My footprints in the sand may wash away
But if I withstand the wind and all this weather
Remember me like the sunshine of all your yesterday's
My work throughout the day may hide my worry
And I can't feel my stress at night from lack of sleep
I see results with my eyes closed
And my future through a blindfold
And I live like in the morning, I'll be fine

But if I die tonight, will you listen to me tomorrow?
Take the drugs off of my side
I don't wanna leave behind that sorrow
Just look up to the sky, I'll be the rain one lonely Sunday
Let that be the only stream that's dancin' down your face
If I die tonight

Oftentimes, I let my thoughts create my surroundings
And out the blue, stress surrounding me controls my thoughts
I hope the mark I leave behind resembles mountains
But not the scar we left behind that's on your heart

But if I die tonight, will you listen to me tomorrow?
Take the drugs off of my side
I don't wanna leave behind that sorrow
Just look up to the sky, I'll be the rain one lonely Sunday
Let that be the only stream that's dancin' down your face
If I die tonight

God forbid, I got a lot to live for

If I die tonight, will you listen to me tomorrow?
Take the drugs off of my side
I don't wanna leave behind that sorrow
Just look up to the sky, I'll be the rain one lonely Sunday
Let that be the only stream that's dancin' down your face
If I die tonight
If I die tonight
