

Loyalty

Clever

My friends that turned foes don't owe me nothing
You can't betray those you can't reach
I put a blunt in the air, it don't mean nothing
I can't see hate through the smoke if my mind is at peace

I blame myself as if I can see it coming
Fake friends leave when you're down
I'm not down when they leave

'Cause sometimes loyalty comes with a lawyer fee Something tells me "it's not true, life's a bitch that lives in you"
Something tells me we've grown apart
And there's no regard (No regard)
Which piece of my broken heart should I listen to?

A part of me wants revenge, I must get even Eye for an eye, can't you see what I see
How can you breathe against me if you're not breathing
Money's all the revenge that I need

I blame myself as if I can see it coming
Fake friends leave when you're down
I don't get down when they leave

'Cause sometimes loyalty comes with a lawyer fee
Something tells me "it's not true, life's a bitch that lives in
you"
Something tells me we've grown apart
And there's no regard (No regard)
Which piece of my broken heart should I listen to?
'Cause sometimes loyalty comes with a lawyer fee
Something tells me "it's not true, life's a bitch that lives in
you"
Something tells me we've grown apart
And there's no regard (No regard)
Which piece of my broken heart should I listen to?

Don't get me started on lovers' relations
If you just ain't seen one another in ages
You might fuck around, forget each other's faces
Just sign paperwork, gotta line up her cases
