

Sandcastles

Clever

Isn't it pathetic?
How I love the way we lay there
So symmetric
If we could just work out the kinks
We'd be electric
Instead you're sending me another hateful message
I shoulda known you wouldn't stick around for breakfast
I'm optimistic 'cause you left another necklace

But if you leave me now it would hurt like hell
If I walked away I'd probably hurt myself
Release the damn shackles, it's all sandcastles
Till it washes away
But if you leave me now it would hurt like hell
If I walked away I'd probably hurt myself
Release the damn shackles, it's all sandcastles
Till it washes away

Don't let it wash away

Blame it all on the timing
Blame it all on this broken heart
I thought that maybe by now we'd have figured it out
But we're oceans apart
Can't we just start over?
Let me take a day or two
Was it something I said? Put a gun to my head
If I had to lose you

But if you leave me now it would hurt like hell
If I walked away I'd probably hurt myself
Release the damn shackles, it's all sandcastles
Till it washes away
But if you leave me now it would hurt like hell
If I walked away I'd probably hurt myself
Release the damn shackles, it's all sandcastles
Till it washes away

Don't wash it away
Don't wash it away
Said don't wash it away
Don't wash it away
Don't let it wash away
